

Alaina Gump

Alaina is committed to providing tax planning and forward-thinking business strategies for clients. She advises business and individual clients in the industries of agriculture, construction, service, retail, property owners' associations and real estate. She also specializes in multi-state and international taxation. Alaina also focuses on providing timely and useful accounting services including compilations and reviews.

Alaina, partner at Wilson Toellner CPA, was awarded the Bridging the Gap as an Emerging Leader Award and is active in the Boomer Consulting Advisor Circle and Boomer Consulting Technology Circle. Alaina is a graduate of the P3 Boomer Leadership Program.

Alaina serves on the University of Central Missouri Accountancy Program Advisory Board and is a member of the American Institute of Public Accountants and Missouri Society of Certified Public Accountants.

She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration with a major in Accounting and a Masters of Arts in Accountancy with a specialization in tax from the University of Central Missouri.

Outside of professional interests, she enjoys spending time with her husband and children, watching sports and reading.